Mustard Seed International Schools

1. Policy

1.1 Policy Statement

MSIS is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people. Recruitment is the first step in ensuring that all staff are competent, motivated, and suited to their roles. This policy sets out the principles, practices, and procedures for recruitment, selection, and induction, ensuring fairness, transparency, and compliance with Kenyan employment laws.

1.2 Scope

This policy applies to:

i. All staff recruitment processes (teaching, non-teaching, permanent, temporary, paid, and voluntary).
ii. Emergency replacements for staff who resign without notice during the school term.
iii. All employees involved in recruitment and selection, who must familiarize themselves with and adhere to this policy.

Exclusions: Board appointments are outside the scope of this policy.

1.3 Guiding Principles

i. Merit-based recruitment: The most suitable candidate is appointed based on qualifications, expertise, and potential.

BUMUST DISCIPLINE POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Discipline is the mode of living under established rules and regulations and subjected to higher authority. Discipline is the 'Gateway' to education. Therefore, it is imperative to have a good discipline established in the school. Students discipline is an important part of providing a congenial learning environment for all. School provides a social context in which students need to be supported while being taught how to accept responsibility for their own behavior.

1.2 The goal of our discipline program is to promote responsible decision making, respect for self and others, respect for property and pride in appropriate behavior. One of our primary responsibilities as a school is to promote a safe, productive learning environment, and it is our belief that communication and teamwork between the home and the school are important in promoting good citizenship and a secure school, providing a support to parents, and reflecting Godly principles of conduct and influence.

2. OBJECTIVES OF THE POLICY

The discipline policy intends to achieve the following objectives:

i. To formulate clear school rules and regulations and familiarize them to the students.
ii. To maintain uniformity, consistency and fairness in addressing disciplinary issues.
iii. To create orderly, safe, secure, supportive and conducive school environment for all.
iv. Aim at high expectations in academic with zero occurrence of indiscipline in the school.
v. Reiterate the importance of bringing on board the parents and other stakeholders.
vi. To inculcate the right values, so that children grow up to be productive and responsible citizens imbued with Godly values and principles.
vii. To recognize the importance of discipline in schools where future citizens are groomed.

viii. To guide and provide basis for the school to make timely interventions by using preventive and measures.

8. DISCIPLINARY PROCESS

8.1 Disciplinary action will be taken for infractions of school policy and rules. These may include counseling, detention, probation, suspension, or as a final resort, expulsion.

A. DISCIPLINARY ACTION BY CLASS TEACHER

Most disciplinary issues are managed by the teacher in the classroom, and the process can involve any of the following, separately or in combination as appropriate.

i. Personal conference with the teacher
ii. Notification of behavior problems to parents iii. Detention
iv. Restriction of privileges
v. Student conference with the head of section vi. A parent-teacher-student or parent-teacher- head of section conference vii. Any other disciplinary action

More extreme or persistent cases of misconduct will be managed by the Head of Section and treated with one or more of the following measures:

i. Detention (within reasonable time)
ii. Requirement that student makes financial restitution for damaged property
iii. Conference with the head of section and/or teacher iv. Probation, combined with appropriate application of consequences relevant to the offense
v. In-school suspension vi. Out-of-school suspension vii. Withdrawal, temporary, until restitution and restoration can be confirmed via visible student behavior and pastoral counsel and recommendation; reinstatement on probation viii. Expulsion

A formal report to record all infractions will be retained within the student's school file outlining the nature of the infraction, how the issue was addressed and the action plan to address resolution.

B. DISCIPLINARY PROBATION

i. Disciplinary probation is designed to alert the student and his or her parents/ guardian to areas of his or her life that need special attention. Students may be placed on disciplinary probation by the recommendation of the Head of Section and the approval of the Head of Centre for a specified period of time for actions which include, but are not limited to;
   a. Continued deliberate disobedience,
   b. Continued and persistent rebellious attitude,
   c. Negative influence on other students,
   d. Academic progress that is unacceptable because the student is not working up to his or her ability,
   e. Committing a serious breach of conduct inside or outside the school,
   f. Failure by students and parents to comply with school policies or failure by the parents to get recommended professional help of students when needed.

ii. A conference with the student and his or her parents is held at the beginning of the probation to discuss the reasons for the probation. A letter stating the results of the conference and the reasons for the probation will follow this conference. During the probation period the student will be restricted from participating in activities outside the classroom.

iii. In cases where the probation follows a serious breach of conduct, a second major incident of misconduct during the disciplinary probation period will result in the suspension or expulsion of the student.

iv. During the restriction the teachers will periodically review the progress of the student. The Head of Centre will then decide whether the student shall be returned to the status of a regular student or will recommend expulsion from the school to the Board of Directors.

v. Disciplinary probation is intended as an intermediate step for the student to "get his or her act together." If there is no progress in attitude, behavior, or general academic achievement, the student will be asked to withdraw from the school or he or she will be expelled.

C. SUSPENSION AND EXPULSION

i. Suspension is the responsibility of the Head of Centre and may be used for serious violations or repeated violations of school rules.

Examples of such conduct include;

a. Exam cheating,
b. Use of vulgar/ profane language
c. Smoking,
d. Consumption of alcohol,
e. Illegal use of drugs or the possession of drugs,
f. Sexually immoral behavior
g. Sneaking out of school
h. Fighting
i. Theft
j. Forgery
k. Bullying- physical or verbal ii. Students involved in the use, possession, or selling of drugs or alcohol may be turned over to the proper authorities if such action is necessitated.

iii. A student may be suspended for a period of one to 14 days at the discretion of the Head of Centre.

iv. The following violations of the Code of Conduct will result in an immediate suspension from school, pending a more thorough investigation of the matter, and may result in withdrawal or expulsion:

a) The use and/or possession of tobacco, alcoholic beverages, or illegal drugs, and the abuse of prescription medication.
b) Immoral sexual conduct (which includes, but is not limited to, extramarital sex, adultery, and homosexuality)
c) Obtaining or facilitating an abortion
d) Possession of weapons and/or dangerous items
e) Repeated dishonesty
f) Flagrant disrespect and disobedience
g) Leaving campus without permission

BUMUST DISCIPLINE POLICY

h) The possession and/or distribution of pornographic materials and information
i) Harassment in any form, both physical and/or sexual in nature
j) Vandalism
k) Continued willful disobedience, misconduct, disrespect
l) Any action taken by a student that disturbs the privacy or invades the private property of staff member at his or her home or that affects his or her private property at school.

v. During the suspension period the student must keep up with his or her school work. All assignments or tests missed during the period of suspension must be completed.
vi. Students may not practice or participate in out of school and in- school co-curricular events for the duration of the suspension, nor may they be involved in after school activities during that time. In addition, students may not attend school activities on the day(s) of suspension.
vii. A parent-student-head of section conference will be held on the day the student returns to school and the student will be placed on probation for a period of six weeks or more.
viii. Expulsion is the responsibility of the Board of directors through the Head of Centre. Students may be expelled from school when major moral or social offenses have been committed and after other disciplinary procedures have failed.
ix. The Head of Centre will refer students who have been placed on suspension, repeated suspensions or disciplinary probation to the Board. The Board and the Head of Centre will discuss the continuance in our school of any student recommended for expulsion.

9. DISCIPLINE FOR REBELLION:

Any act of rebellion will be dealt with immediately by the administration. The student will be sent directly to the Head of Centre's office with a discipline form completed by the teacher and the Head of Section who will determine the consequence for the student's rebellious actions. In some cases the parents of the student may need to be brought in to the discipline process.

10. SENIOR POLICY:

As the highest ranking grade level, seniors are looked up to and emulated by the juniors. In order to set a good example for the younger students, all seniors must adhere to the following instructions.

i. Seniors who have checked out of school but come back in the classroom, dining area, or gymnasium areas during school hours are required to abide by the following directions:
a) Have on uniform dress code attire.
b) Have school badge.
c) Keep laptops turned off when not in use at the right place and at the right time.

11. TATTOO POLICY:

We believe it is important to protect the atmosphere of learning making it conducive to the standards we have set. We desire to limit distractions thereby increasing the ability of our students to learn and comprehend the material presented. We believe tattoos are a distraction for the student body and therefore will not allow enrolled students to obtain a tattoo. We believe this practice can and should be delayed until after graduation, at which time, an older, more mature person will be better equipped to make a permanent decision

- Existing students and potential new students that already possess tattoos will be subject to the admission panel review for enrollment.
- Students who choose to break this policy will face disciplinary action.

12. CONCLUSION

Summary of good school behavior – Be at the right place, at the right time, with the right materials, in a quiet manner, with an expectant and respectful attitude.

Positively, the school seeks to cooperate with the home in forming good habits in the students such as cheerful obedience to authority, courtesy and respect for others, responsibility, cleanliness and orderliness, truthfulness and honesty, morally correct conduct, and wise use of time, talents and material possessions.

BUMUST seeks, in other words, to build Godly character traits into the lives of its students and pursues an active program in doing so, both through instruction and example. A rebellious spirit or negative attitude, which is unchanged after much effort by the school, can be a poor influence on other students. Continued deliberate disobedience to a teacher or to school rules has an adverse effect upon the school's testimony.

13. AMENDMENTS TO THE POLICY

The Board of Directors may in their discretion and on recommendation of the discipline committee, make any changes/modifications and/or amendments to this Policy from time to time. In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this Policy and of the Act of Parliament or any other statutory enactments, rules, the provisions of such Act or statutory enactments, rules shall prevail over and automatically be applicable to this Policy and the relevant provisions of the Policy would be amended/modified in due course to make it consistent with the law.

2. Scope

This policy applies to staff of BUMUSK who wish to raise a work-related grievance. It sets out the responsibilities of the staff member, the immediate supervisor, the Head of Section (HOS), the Head of Institution / Head of Centre (HOC), Human Resources (HR), management, investigation panel members and independent reviewers, as applicable.

3. Guiding Principles

a) Confidentiality: Grievances and related records must be handled confidentially and shared only with those who need the information to address the matter.
b) Impartiality: Grievances must be assessed objectively, and investigations should be fair and unbiased.
c) Protection from retaliation: Staff should be assured of protection from retaliation for raising a grievance in good faith.
d) Documentation: Complaints, responses, investigation records, decisions and appeals must be documented.
e) Fair hearing: The affected staff member must be given an opportunity to be heard, including the opportunity to bring a representative to the resolution meeting.
f) Timely handling: Each stage should be completed within the timelines set out in this policy, where practicable.

4. Grievance Procedure

4.1 Raising a grievance

A staff member who has a grievance should first approach their immediate supervisor and attempt to resolve the matter directly. If the matter remains unresolved, the staff member should submit a written complaint to the Head of Institution / HOC. Where appropriate under the escalation route, the complaint may be referred to management.

a) Responsible parties: Concerned staff member; immediate supervisor; HOS, as applicable
b) Records: Written complaint.
c) Timeline: Immediately.
d) Risks and mitigation: Delayed reporting due to fear of retaliation may be mitigated by assuring confidentiality and protection from retaliation, encouraging written submissions and training employees on available grievance channels.

4.2 Acknowledgement

The receiving HOS or HOC should acknowledge the written complaint and provide a written response on the complaint or next steps.

a) Responsible parties: HOS / HOC.
b) Records: Written complaint and written response.
c) Timeline: Within 2 days.

BUMUSKI GRIEVANCE POLICY 2026

d) Risks and mitigation: Delayed or ignored acknowledgement and loss of trust should be addressed by responding to the complaint within the stated timeline and maintaining an open-door policy

4.3 Initial assessment

The HOS / HOC should conduct an initial, objective assessment of the complaint to determine the appropriate next steps. Valid claims should not be dismissed prematurely.

a) Responsible parties: HOS / HOC.
b) Records: Written complaint and written response.
c) Timeline: Within 3 days after acknowledgement.
d) Risks and mitigation: Bias or incomplete assessment should be mitigated by maintaining impartiality and objectivity when considering the claim

4.4 Formal investigation, including interviews.

Where a formal investigation is required, a panel led by the HOC should review the matter, conduct relevant interviews and record the information gathered. Neutral parties, such as board members, should be involved where appropriate.

a) Responsible parties: Panel members led by the HOC.
b) Records: Panel meeting notes and incident forms.
c) Timeline: Within 7 days after the grievance is raised.
d) Risks and mitigation: Unfair or biased investigation and breaches of confidentiality should be mitigated by involving neutral parties where appropriate and observing strict confidentiality.

4.5 Resolution meeting

Following the investigation, a resolution meeting should be held with the affected staff member and relevant panel members. The staff member should be allowed to bring a representative. Neutral mediators, such as board members, may be used in extreme cases.

a) Responsible parties: Affected staff member and panel members led by the HOC.
b) Records: Panel meeting notes and incident forms.
c) Timeline: Within 3 days after the investigation.
d) Risks and mitigation: Intimidation, power imbalance and escalation of conflict should be mitigated by allowing representation and using neutral mediation where appropriate.

4.6 Decision and action

The HOC / HR should document the decision, the action to be taken and the applicable timelines, and communicate the decision to the staff member in writing. An appeal may be made in accordance with Section 4.7.

a) Responsible parties: HOC / HR.
b) Records: Panel meeting notes, incident forms and a letter containing the decision.
c) Timeline: Within 2 days after the investigation.
d) Risks and mitigation: Lack of follow-through and dissatisfaction with the outcome should be addressed by documenting decisions and timelines and providing an appeal process where applicable.

4.7 Appeal process

A staff member who is dissatisfied with the decision may submit a written appeal. Appeals should be reviewed by independent reviewers, such as board members, to reduce conflicts of interest.

i. The employee should first approach their immediate supervisor; if unresolved, ii. The matter should be submitted in writing to the Head of Institution. If still unresolved, iii. The employee should submit it in writing to management.

BUMUSKI GRIEVANCE POLICY 2026

iv. Management should hear the aggrieved staff member and communicate its decision in writing.

NOTE: The source procedure states that management's decision is final.

a) Responsible parties: Individual staff member and independent reviewers.
b) Records: Original decision letter and letter of appeal.
c) Timeline: Within 7 days after receipt of the decision.
d) Risks and mitigation: Lack of an appeal mechanism and conflicts of interest should be mitigated by defining clear, fair appeal steps and using independent reviewers

4.8 Follow-up and closure

After the grievance process is concluded, the HOC and HR should follow up with the staff member to confirm closure and check whether concerns have re-emerged. Regular check-ins and an anonymous feedback mechanism should be used as appropriate.

a) Responsible parties: Individual staff member, HOC and HR.
b) Records: Final letter from the appeal process, where applicable, and follow-up records.
c) Timeline: Monthly check-ins.
d) Risks and mitigation: Retaliation or recurrence of unresolved issues should be mitigated through regular check-ins by the HOC and HR and an anonymous feedback mechanism.

5. Confidentiality and Records

All written complaints, responses, meeting notes, incident forms, decision letters, appeal letters and follow-up records must be handled confidentially. Records should be maintained securely by the responsible office and made available only to authorised persons involved in handling the grievance.

6. Responsibilities

i. Staff member:
   a) Raise the grievance promptly, provide a written complaint where required, participate in the process and submit an appeal in writing within the stated timeline if dissatisfied.
   b) Immediate supervisor / HOS: Receive or help address the grievance at the appropriate initial stage, encourage appropriate reporting and acknowledge or respond to complaints as required.

ii. HOC:
   a) Lead or coordinate assessment, investigation and resolution; ensure impartiality and confidentiality; document and communicate decisions.

iii. HR:
   a) Support the process, maintain records, assist with decision communication and conduct follow-up with the HOC.
   b) Panel members / independent reviewers: Participate impartially, maintain confidentiality and, where appointed, review the grievance or appeal objectively.

iv. Management:
   a) Hear the aggrieved staff member where the matter is escalated to management and communicate the decision in writing.

7. Policy Approval and Review

This policy takes effect upon approval by the authorized approver. Any amendments should be approved through the organisation's applicable approval process.

5. INTRODUCTION

i. An induction is a process used to welcome new employees and prepare them for their new roles. It helps in the integration of employees into our institutions. An induction policy does not work only for new hires but also when roles are interchanged. An induction policy ensures that all employees benefit from a properly structured induction policy that will help them integrate into their role in the institution conveniently and effectively.
ii. Upon every new hire, the hiring team and the HR oversee the induction process and ensure new hires do not suffer from confusion.
iii. This policy ensures that there is a standard protocol of induction across all departments. The target audience for this policy are;
    a. New hires,
    b. interchanged employees,
    c. Hiring team, and
    d. Induction buddies

6. Definitions:

6.1 Induction:

Is a process whereby an Employee is provided with access to appropriate Information and support required to operate effectively in their appointed position. It is typically conducted over the first few weeks of an Employee's commencement and provides key Information related to the institution's vision, mission, core values as well as employment terms and condition that include, statutory obligation, dress code, reporting time among others.

6.2 On-boarding

Encompasses the complete range of tasks and requirements involved with acclimating and engaging a new Employee in the organization - its goal is to accommodate, assimilate and accelerate new team members into their roles at the institution. It is a continuous process, both corporately and in the work area, that may extend for weeks or months until the Employee has been successfully integrated into the workplace and is achieving an acceptable level of productivity.

7. PROCEDURE OVERVIEW

This Procedure details the Induction and On-boarding requirements at the institutions.

7.1 PROCEDURES

i. Staff that are hired at the beginning of the term are taken through orientation one week before the school opens.
ii. The Head of Centre organizes orientation seminar for the staff for one to two days.
iii. The housing committee assigns houses to the new staff depending on:
   a. availability of a house
   b. Marital status.
   c. Seniority of the staff

In case the houses are unavailable, the staff is advised to look for accommodation elsewhere.

iv. The new staff joins the rest of the staff during the opening meeting/seminar at the beginning of the term where they are officially introduced.
v. Teachers are given timetable numbers, workload, duties and responsibilities and for the new non teaching members of staff, they are given their job descriptions and the expectations of the job.
vi. They are attached to the HOS for further detailed orientation on matters concerning their teaching subjects/ duties and acquire all the necessary teaching materials e.g. chalk, lesson plan, mark book for teachers and for the non teaching staff, they are given the necessary tools of trade for example a desk top, uniform and specific tools as necessary.
vii. The HOS carries out constant assessment and writes recommendation on the progress of the new staff to the Head of Centre.
viii. The HOS is fully responsible in the orientation of the teacher.
ix. The interview panel through the Head of Centre advises the new staff on the following:-
   - Opening a bank account

7.3 Advice to new Employees and Supervisors

i. The Head of Centre will inform Employees of the requirement to participate in Induction and On-boarding programs upon commencement. Appropriate access and documentation will be provided to the Employee in order to have this completed in a timely manner.
ii. Induction and On-boarding guidelines are available outlined in the induction checklist for Supervisors regarding the importance of the Induction and On-boarding process.

7.4 Induction and On-boarding programs

Employees will normally participate in both a corporate Induction program and a local or work area specific On-boarding or orientation program.

All Employees are required to be active participants throughout their Induction and On-boarding program. This includes seeking additional Information, assistance and clarification if required.

7.4.1 Corporate Induction and On-boarding Employees are required to participate in various trainings within the first week at the Institution. This includes training on:

a. Organization Vision, Mission and Core values
b. Staff Manual
c. The process maps
d. Permission forms
e. Requisition forms
f. All relevant documents needed to perform duties e.g.

i. Job description,
ii. Copy of syllabus,
iii. Lesson plan book,
iv. Records of work,
v. Schemes of work,
vi. Lesson observation sheet,
vii. Teachers' monthly assessment form viii. Prefects analysis form ix. Mark book
x. School attendance register xi. Syllabus coverage audit form xii. Syllabus audit on challenging areas xiii. Exam analysis sheet xiv. Block timetable
xv. Library book report
xvi. Merit list

These trainings are usually conducted by the Head of the Institution but he can delegate to his deputy or Head of section

7.4.2 Work area Induction and On-boarding

i. An Employee may also participate in a specific work area training, On-boarding and orientation program, normally conducted by their Supervisor.
ii. This program will cover issues specific to the work area and may vary depending on the location and the Employee's role within the work area and the Institution. Guidelines and checklists are available to assist with this program.

7.4.3 Workplace health and safety requirements

i. All employees who work within the Kitchen area must be appropriately trained and briefed by their Supervisor on workplace health and safety requirements and any additional specific training for their job before commencing work.

ii. For most Employees, this means they must attend an onsite site-specific workplace health and safety Induction on their first day of employment, in addition to ensuring their medical certificates are valid.
iii. The onsite Induction must include all appropriate job specific training that the Employee may require. Examples include manual handling training for employment which involves lifting or training in emergency Procedures for Employees working in the kitchen. Supervisors are encouraged to contact the Head of the Institution for clarification of the training which may be required.
iv. Supervisors are to arrange for a safety Induction, for example a group face to face briefing by an appropriate person covering the required topics.
v. Appropriate records must be kept of the training provided and the names of all attendees.

7.5 Record of Induction

A record must be kept of all Induction training and any relevant recommended Inductions. Completion Information and induction evaluation and feedback will be stored in the Employee's file and monitored all through to the annual performance review process.

7.6 Continuous and Annual refresher

Employees are required to refresh their training continuously and the same is monitored through the institution's annual performance review process.

8 Delegated Responsibilities

i. Line managers/ immediate supervisor's key responsibilities

Line managers within the organization have vital roles, which include;

a) Ensuring induction policy is not too long for the new hires to spend a lot of time reading,
b) Regularly meet new staff at their respective areas of work to measure progress,
c) Informing existing staff that they should expect new hires,
d) Arrange meeting venues and ensuring everything is working.

ii. Senior Management team's key responsibilities.

a. The senior Management team is overall in designing induction policy within the organization.
b. They make sure resources are available for a smooth transition of duties, c. Signing new hires, and
d. Informing senior employees to expect new hires.
e. Senior Management is responsible for organizing benchmarking, field trips, and seminars for new hires where necessary.

iii. New staff key responsibilities

a. The new staff is at the core of the induction policy. They are responsible for working closely with line managers to meet the organization's goals.
b. With the aid of line managers/ supervisors, new hires complete an induction checklist which acts as a guideline for self-dependence.

9 Conclusion

Five Core Things- The key things that happen during induction are:

i. Administration: The new hires need to be provided with documents as stated by the law. Also, they need to receive official garments, if any, and any PPEs.
ii. Terms and conditions: New hires are required to be aware of the contract terms and the consequences of going against them. Within the first month of employment, the recruits are issued a written document stating the legal requirements. New hires should go through the manuscript with assistance from line managers.
iii. Health and safety: It is a legal requirement for the employer to issue employees with health and safety procedures. New hires need to be informed of possible injuries and hazards within the workplace. Management is responsible for showing new hires self-protection garments, fire exit doors, fire extinguisher location, and electricity main switch.
iv. Tour to the workplace: The new hires usually have no experience with the workplace, and the Management must take them through the departments, systems, and external environment. During induction, line managers assume the role of guiding new hires through the workplace.
v. Introduction to the job: For convenience, new hires are buddied with existing staff to show them how they carry out their daily routines. By buddying, new hires learn with ease and less tension, thus creating a relaxed work environment. The Management should explain how the duties to be assigned are related to the organization's mission, vision, and goals.

10. Policy review

The Management ensures that the reviewed policies thrive in the year to make changes on confusing elements and add new clauses. The review is based on the feedback from the employee.

1. Introduction

   Performance appraisal is the structured process through which the achievement of agreed objectives is reviewed, positive behaviour and organisational values are recognised, and actions are identified to support employee development. The employee whose performance is assessed is the "appraisee"; the person conducting the assessment is the "appraiser".

   Performance expectations and objectives must be communicated to employees, and the organisation should provide the necessary resources to support their achievement. Performance appraisal forms part of talent management and succession planning and helps the organisation understand employees' abilities, potential and career aspirations.

2. Policy Statement

   Mustard Group Limited is committed to a fair, consistent, transparent and meaningful performance appraisal process that supports employee performance, development and organisational objectives across the Group and its subsidiaries.

3. Rationale and Purpose

This Policy forms part of the Group's performance management system. It is intended to:

a) Promote talent management and succession planning.
b) Support a performance-oriented working environment.
c) Help employees understand and achieve agreed objectives.
d) Recognise employees' contributions to the progress of the organisation.
e) Explain the Group's appraisal framework and the process through which employees participate.
f) Ensure that employee performance is assessed against established standards and reviewed regularly.
g) Promote confidence and trust in the fairness of the appraisal system.
h) Help employees understand future prospects and discuss career aspirations and development needs.
i) Support job satisfaction and identify and develop successors for critical and high-responsibility positions.

4. Scope

   This Policy applies to all employees of Mustard Group Limited and its subsidiaries, including permanent and contract-based employees. Appraisal arrangements should take account of the employee's role, agreed responsibilities and applicable employment terms.

5. Guiding Principles

a) Every employee should understand the performance expectations and responsibilities attached to their role.

BUMUSKI PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL POLICY

b) Managers should provide the resources reasonably required to enable employees to perform and improve.
c) Employees may request feedback on their performance.
d) Appraisals must be thoughtful, evidence-based and meaningful, rather than a routine tick-box exercise.
e) Assessments should be fair, consistent and based on role-related criteria.
f) Managers should identify talent and encourage employees' professional growth.
g) The process should support healthy communication, teamwork and employee well-being.

6. Responsibilities

6.1 Employees / Appraisees

a) Complete and submit self-assessment forms, comparing achievements and work progress against agreed objectives.
b) Attend appraisal and performance-development meetings scheduled during the year.
c) Participate in and work towards the Personal Development Plan (PDP) agreed following the appraisal.
d) Provide appropriate evidence of work completed, achievements and learning undertaken during the year.
e) Complete training programmes or courses identified in the previous year's PDP, or as agreed soon after joining the organisation.
f) Submit required appraisal forms and supporting evidence by the communicated deadlines.

6.2 Immediate Supervisors / Appraisers

a) Hold regular discussions with team members on performance, progress and development.
b) Provide ongoing feedback on achievements, performance gaps and progress throughout the year.
c) Assess performance fairly against agreed objectives, role requirements and relevant evidence.
d) Maintain supporting evidence for the grades awarded and verify task-completion claims where applicable.
e) Identify potential successors for critical roles and support implementation of employees' PDPs.
f) Promote employee health and well-being, effective communication and a supportive working environment.

6.3 Heads of Institutions / Subsidiary Heads

a) Coordinate appraisal activities within their respective institutions or subsidiaries.
b) Communicate appraisal timelines and deadlines for self-appraisal and team-evaluation forms.
c) Ensure that appraisals are completed consistently and submitted to HR as required.

6.4 Human Resources Department and Management

a) Maintain an appropriate appraisal framework and templates that explain the process to employees and appraisers.
b) Coordinate and oversee the annual appraisal process, working with the relevant institutional or subsidiary heads.
c) Support consistency and fairness in the application of the Policy.
d) Review appraisal outcomes and coordinate applicable incentives after targets have been achieved and the annual appraisal completed, subject to management approval and applicable criteria.

e) Receive employee requests for clarification or concerns about the appraisal process.

7. Appraisal Criteria

Appraisal should consider the employee's agreed objectives and overall contribution to the organisation. Relevant criteria include:

a) Achievement of agreed objectives and results of assigned tasks.
b) Job-specific skills and essential skills compliance.
c) Behaviour and demonstration of organisational values.
d) Teamwork and contribution to colleagues and the wider organisation.
e) Additional competencies and social skills.
f) Special achievements and organisational citizenship behavior.
g) Learning, development and progress against the employee's PDP.

8. Appraisal Frequency and Schedule

Routine performance appraisals will be conducted approximately every three months, with a major appraisal at the end of the year. Additional appraisals may be conducted where the need arises. The designated appraisal months are April, July/August, and November/December. Heads of Institutions or the relevant subsidiary heads will communicate the specific dates and deadlines for submission of self-appraisal forms and team-evaluation forms.

9. Appraisal Procedure

a) Communication of expectations: The appraiser explains the employee's role responsibilities, objectives, performance standards and relevant measures. Necessary resources should be identified.
b) Self-assessment: The employee completes the self-appraisal form and provides evidence of achievements, work progress and learning against agreed objectives.
c) Manager assessment: The appraiser reviews the self-assessment, verifies relevant evidence and assesses performance, behaviour and essential skills compliance.
d) Appraisal discussion: The employee and appraiser discuss achievements, performance gaps, feedback, support required and career or development aspirations.
e) Rating and documentation: The appraiser records the assessment and retains evidence supporting the grades awarded.
f) Personal Development Plan: Development needs are documented in a PDP, including relevant training or courses and agreed follow-up actions.
g) Communication and submission: Completed forms are submitted by the communicated deadline. Employees are informed of their overall performance assessment score.
h) Follow-up: The appraiser monitors progress against the PDP and agreed performance actions during the year.

10. Performance Scoring and Rating

The overall performance assessment score combines the employee's performance score against set objectives, behavioural score and essential skills compliance. Performance is assessed against the ideal points established for the employee and the extent to which the agreed objectives have been achieved.

Rating	Description	Score range
1.	Unacceptable	0-25%
2.	Needs improvement	26- 50%
3.	Satisfactory	51-75%
4.	Good	76-100%

The rating scale above is reproduced from the existing framework. The appraisal forms should state how component scores are weighted and how boundary scores are treated, where this has been determined by the Group.

11. Outcomes and Further Action

a) Salary increments are considered annually, taking into account the institution's financial position and the employee's overall performance assessment score.
b) Employees attaining the stated 75% cut-off may be eligible for a salary increment, subject to the institution's financial position and applicable approval.
c) Employees scoring below 50% against the set ideal score will be considered for skills-improvement training and may receive a warning or memorandum relating to poor performance.
d) Three consecutive ratings below 50% are identified in the existing framework as grounds for summary dismissal. Any employment decision arising from performance concerns must be handled through the applicable disciplinary and performance-management procedures and in accordance with applicable law.
e) Employees achieving an exceptional rating of 90% and above may be considered for performance incentives, including promotion, subject to suitability, available opportunities and management approval.
f) Incentives, bonuses and other actions are determined by management based on the overall score, achievement of targets and applicable organisational conditions.

12. Evidence, Records and Transparency

a) Employees are required to provide evidence of their performance and task completion. Reporting managers or supervisors may verify such evidence.
b) Appraisers must award fair grades and retain evidence supporting the assessment.
c) Self-appraisal and team-evaluation forms must be submitted on or before the stated deadline.
d) Employees will be informed of their overall performance assessment score to support transparency.
e) Specific grades and evaluations recorded by managers will remain confidential under the existing framework.
f) An employee who is dissatisfied with an assessment or requires clarification may approach the Human Resources Department

13. Personal Development and Succession Planning

Appraisal outcomes should be used to identify learning needs, strengthen job skills, support career aspirations and improve performance. PDPs should identify relevant development actions, including training or courses, and should be followed up by the employee and appraiser. Appraisal information may also support the identification and development of successors for critical and high-responsibility positions.

BUMUST RETIREMENT POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION

The law provides that: 'a dismissal based on age is fair if the employee has reached normal or agreed retirement age for persons employed in that capacity. An organization may therefore determine a normal or agreed retirement age.

Bumust has adopted the normal retirement age of 60 years but recognizes the need to retain certain exceptional, highly skilled and productive staff, particularly those in scarce skill disciplines, beyond the age of 60. It accordingly permits extensions beyond retirement subject to the rules of the relevant retirement funds.

1.1. Rationale

Bumust recognizes that its success depends on its ability to attract, recruit and retain suitably qualified, skilled and experienced staff, particularly as the demand for quality services grows. The institutions also recognizes the importance of supporting its staff to achieve a balance between their work and home life not just during employment but also in planning the transition to retirement at a time and pace which suits the individual.

2. PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to establish the normal age of retirement and the principles for a fair and consistent assessment of applications for extension beyond retirement.

3. Objectives of the policy

The aims of the policy are:

i. To allow sufficient flexibility in terms of the options for retirement to accommodate the needs of the service and those of the individual.
ii. Increase age diversity in the workforce.
iii. To retain skilled and able workers.
iv. To aid in workforce planning.
v. To provide guidance so that managers and staff are aware of the options that are available and the ability of the individual to make choices about the way in which they wish to retire and their eventual retirement.
vi. To clarify the rights of the individual and the organization.
vii. To meet the extended working requirements of the Employment Equality (Age) Regulations viii. Increase employee commitment and loyalty through enabling more ownership of length of working lives.

4. PRINCIPLES

4.1. Staff who are retiring shall be given at least one year's notice, of the decision to grant extension beyond retirement or not, in order to facilitate planning.

4.2. There shall be fairness, consistency and transparency in the criteria and procedures for granting extensions beyond retirement.

BUMUST RETIREMENT POLICY

4.3. All assessment panels or committees shall provide detailed reasons for recommendations or decisions.

4.4. Applicants for extension beyond retirement shall be treated with sensitivity but no extension beyond retirement shall be granted purely on compassionate grounds.

4.5. Except in exceptional circumstances, staff members beyond normal retirement age shall not occupy temporary leadership roles. This is to ensure capacity building, equal opportunity and transformation.

4.6. All applications for extension beyond retirement shall be considered by the Staffing Committee of the Company; which comprises of the Head of Centre, HR and the Directors where need be, which shall make the final decision.

4.7. There shall be no appeals with respect to the decision of the Staffing Committee.

4. 8. Reviews shall be based solely on procedural irregularity.

5. POLICY PROVISIONS

5.1 Normal Retirement

5.1.1. The Company values the contributions made by all staff regardless of age. It nevertheless recognizes that some level of staff turnover is essential in order to introduce new skills and approaches or to re-focus activities that impact on the success of the Company. Staff turnover is also imperative if the Company is to achieve its transformation goals.

The normal age of retirement for all staff shall accordingly be 60 years of age and shall take effect at the end of the year in which the staff member reaches the age of 60 years.

5.1.2. Staff may elect to retire at the end of the month in which they reach 60 years.

5.2 Early Retirement

Subject to the rules of the relevant retirement fund, like NSSF, staff at the age of fifty five years and older may apply to retire before their normal retirement age.

5.3 Extensions beyond Normal Retirement Age

The Company recognizes the need to retain certain exceptional, highly skilled and productive staff beyond the normal age of retirement. Accordingly, the Company may, subject to the rules of applicable retirement fund, grant an extension beyond normal retirement to a staff member who has reached normal retirement age, for a period of up to three years, in the first instance, with the possibility of a further extension for up to two years.

Notwithstanding the period of extension granted, a staff member on extension beyond normal retirement age must meet or exceed the expectations for their post in the annual performance assessment process. Should their performance fall below expectation in any year of assessment, their contract may be terminated. Extensions beyond retirement shall not be automatic and shall depend on:

5.3.1. Assessment of options for filling the post

Prior to assessing a potential retiree for an extension beyond retirement, the relevant senior managers shall consider:

5.3.1.1 The strategic, operational and or academic priorities of the Business Unit to determine if resources should be allocated to the post;

5.3.1.2 The need to use the post to enhance transformation, in terms of achieving employment equity goals of the Business Unit;

5.3.1.3 The likelihood of filling the post taking into account any specialized skills required for the post as well as likely availability of a replacement given prevailing market trends.
If after assessing options for the post, it is confirmed that an extension beyond retirement is possible, the staff member shall have to be assessed in terms of criteria contained in 5.3.2 below.

5.3.2. Assessment of staff member

5.3.2.1 Minimum Requirements:

i. A sustained high level of performance by the staff member. This assessment shall be based largely on the annual performance reviews of the staff member once the Performance Management system has been implemented. In addition to the minimum criteria the incumbent must meet at least three of the following requirements.
ii. Possession of specialized or scarce skills and qualifications that is difficult to replace through normal recruitment due to prevailing market factors.
iii. Key level of involvement in a major project where continuity is imperative for success.
iv. High ongoing productivity.
v. Proven record in terms of income generation.
vi. Evidence of continuing professional development and adaptability to new trends and developments in his/her field.

5.3.3. Duration of Extension

The duration of the extension shall be determined taking into account:

5.3.3.1 Major projects in which the employee has a key role and where continuity is essential;

5.3.3.2 The duration of an approved succession plan.

The maximum duration of the first extension beyond retirement is three years.
Thereafter a new application is made for a further period of up to two years.

BUMUST RETIREMENT POLICY

5.3.4. Terms of Appointment

5.3.4.1. Remuneration

Where there is no change in the workload and level of responsibility, the staff member shall retain his/her salary as at normal retirement date and shall remain on pensionable service subject to rules of the relevant retirement fund.

6. PROCEDURE

Formal Pre-Retirement Procedure for staff nearing default retirement age of 60.

i. Notification:

The HR Department will write to employees (copied to Heads of Institutions) giving notice of their default retirement date (60) not more than one year but not less than six months before the default retirement date outlining the employee's right to request to work beyond the retirement age.

ii. Application for extended working

If an employee wishes to request extended working past the default retirement date they must put the request in writing at least three months before the default retirement date stating whether they wish to continue work indefinitely, for a stated period or until a certain date.

iii. Meeting to Discuss

If an application for extended working is received a formal meeting must be convened within 15 working days following receipt of the request with the Head of institution and HR to discuss and consider the request. The employee is entitled to be accompanied at this meeting by workplace colleague of their choice. The panel and employee may explore alternatives to current post as appropriate, i.e. reduced hours/wind-down/step-down. A decision must be made on whether to accept or decline the request and confirmed in writing to the employee within 5 working days of the date of the meeting. Requests should be considered objectively in conjunction with the HR; applications may be refused where there is a clear business reason, although it has to be acknowledged that it will be difficult to identify one. If a request for extended working is approved a new retirement date should be agreed for 24 months later (N.B this then becomes the default retirement date).

iv. Appeal

If the application is refused; employees have the right to appeal against this decision to the HR within 21 working days of the rejection in writing detailing the grounds of the appeal. The appeal should be addressed to the HR and copied to Board of Directors. The appeal process will then follow the standard Grievance Policy and procedure.

7. IMPLEMENTATION AND COMPLIANCE

7.1 Implementation

This Policy has been jointly agreed within the board of directors

7.2 Compliance

BUMUST RETIREMENT POLICY

i. The HR department has a strategic responsibility to ensure that the policy is communicated to all staff and is effectively implemented.

ii. The HR Manager will:-

a) Oversee the introduction, operation and monitoring of the policy;

b) Ensure the provision of guidance and support for Managers on the operation of the Policy.

iii. The Heads of institutions will:-

a) Provide advice and guidance to Heads of sections on the policy and its application;

b) Assist and provide appropriate support and information to employees with regard to this policy.

c) Apply the principles of the policy fairly and sensitively;

d) Ensure that all members of staff are aware of and understand the policy

iii. Employee Responsibilities:-

a) All employees will observe the principles of the policy and where appropriate follow the stated application processes.

8. STAFF RETIREMENT PACKAGE

i. Send off party
ii. Token of appreciation upon retirement would be guided by the following scale:

Number of years	Token amount
5 - 10 years of service	Kshs. 100,000/-
11 - 15 years of service	Kshs. 150,000/-
16 – 20 years of service	Kshs. 200,000/-
21 years and above	Kshs. 220,000/-

iii. Redundancy: calculated at:
15 days salary multiplied by (*) the number of years worked; at current salary rate.

9. AMENDMENTS TO THE POLICY

The Board of Directors may in their discretion and on recommendation of the HR and or the HOC/ Manager, make any changes/modifications and/or amendments to this Policy from time to time. In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this Policy and of the Act of Parliament or any other statutory enactments, rules, the provisions of such Act or statutory enactments, the Act shall prevail over and automatically be applicable to this Policy and the relevant provisions of the Policy would be amended/modified in due course to make it consistent with the law.

iv. Review existing processes including any relevant risk assessments.
v. HOC, Child Safeguarding Head and Communication Team to generate and communicate a completed report to relevant stakeholders.

h). Structural Failure

In the event of a structural failure or suspected risk of one occurring, the following procedures must be followed:

i. Immediately evacuate all persons from the area and if safe to do so, provide any immediate first aid care.
ii. Depending upon the severity a whole school evacuation may be required, this will be determined by the HOC. If a whole school evacuation is required, communication should be conducted via the PA system, with clear instructions given.
iii. If an evacuation is required, escape routes will be diverted away from the incident location.
iv. Contact the emergency services to provide medical and emergency support.
v. At this stage the Head of Centre will notify the ERC, in order to invoke the crisis management plan.
vi. As soon as reasonably possible and once the location is deemed safe for access, a structural assessment must be carried out. This should be conducted via the Administrator, who will source for a suitable contractor.
vii. The area will only be re-opened following the structural assessment and the confirmation that it is deemed safe by a competent person.

Following the incident:

i. Work with the Administration team to establish methods of communication to parents, students and other stakeholders.
ii. Conduct investigation with the assistance of the administrator iii. Review existing processes including any relevant risk assessments.
iv. Generate and communicate a completed report to relevant stakeholders. This will include the consultant's structural assessment.

i). Loss of essential services

Loss of essential services could include water, electricity etc. In the event of such an incident, the following procedures should be followed:

i. HOC and Administrator determine the school impact and decide on the appropriate action.
ii. Communication will be made to the necessary school community.
iii. The Principal will liaise with the Chief Operations Officer to establish the course of action to return the services to normal.
iv. Based on the assessment, clear communication should be sent to the parents if need be.

Following the incident:

i. Work with communication team to establish methods of communication to parents, students and other stakeholders.
ii. Review existing processes including any relevant risk assessments.
iii. HOC and Admin team to generate and communicate a completed report to relevant stakeholders.

5. Communication Plan

a. Internal Communication:

i. Establish a clear method of communication among staff members (e.g. phones).
ii. Use a school-wide PA system or emergency alarms to alert everyone in case of emergency.

b. External Communication:

i. Notify local authorities (police, fire department, medical services) as needed.
ii. Inform parents or guardians through phone calls, SMS, or other reliable means.
iii. Update the local community and the media if necessary.
